

School Children Trapped in Daylight Raid

Rescue workers dig furiously in wreckage of a London school where 24 children are known dead and many others injured in worst daylight raid London has seen since 1940. The raid was apparently in retaliation for recent heavy Berlin bombings by the R. A. F. Twelve of the 25 Nazi invaders were shot down over London.

Army Ground Force Replaces Marines in Solomon Islands

Major General Patch is Placed in Command at Guadalcanal

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson disclosed today that Army ground troops have replaced the Marines in the Solomons and are commanded by Major General Alexander Patch, who has moved his headquarters from New Caledonia to Guadalcanal.

The Marines who fought so long and so well in the Solomons are now getting a chance to rest," Patterson said at a press conference.

Patch, who commanded the Army troops which landed in New Caledonia last year, relieved Major General Alexander A. Vandegrift of the Marines not quite a month ago, Patterson said.

The Army troops and Patch are under the general command of Major General Millard F. Harmon, who commands all Army troops in the South Pacific, but the operations at that entire area are still under the command of Admiral William F. Halsey, Patterson said.

The American position in the Solomons has improved further during the last week, Patterson said, but the Japanese are expected to make new efforts to reinforce their troops on Guadalcanal.

A Navy communiqué also formally announced the change in command on Guadalcanal, and said General Patch would also command troops on Tulagi, a small island in the Solomons near Guadalcanal.

Picture Is "Bright"

Reviewing other aspects of the war on various fronts, the undersecretary reported that except for submarine sinkings of allied cargo ships, "the over all picture is bright."

He said Russian successes against the Germans might force them to retreat to the Dnieper river to form a winter line, and that political differences among the French in North Africa had not stopped the French from taking an important part in military actions.

Construction of new ships now exceeds the losses from submarine sinkings, he said, but the axis undersea attacks are still placing a heavy drain on shipping and supplies even though new ships "are both faster and better than the ones being sunk."

Greater emphasis is being placed on anti-submarine warfare and the protection of shipping, he said, as offensive operations develop around the world.

Patterson described the lifting of the siege of Leningrad as "one of the most remarkable things that has ever occurred in this war."

In North Africa, Patterson said, the rapid advance of the British 8th Army in Libya threatens Tripoli, and the "fall of the city" would seem to be a matter of hours.

Japs "Annihilated"

In Tunisia itself, he said, there has been a lull due to unfavorable weather, but considerable air action has continued, with allied planes still maintaining a two-to-one superiority over axis air forces.

In the Southwest Pacific, the

The Japanese parliament was to have convened today to hear Premier General Tojo and his colleagues outline the government's policies. Usually this day—on which the two houses resume business after the long New Year recess—is the most important of the annual session. The ministerial declarations correspond roughly to the American president's annual message to congress on the state of the nation; this is the one occasion each year when the ministers make a more or less clean breast of things to the country.

But the Tokyo radio says Tojo has a cold and therefore the reopening has been postponed to next Wednesday. Now this is highly unusual, although Tojo, who is war minister as well as premier, is a more important man than most of his predecessors, it does not seem that his cold is sufficient explanation of a six-day postponement of an important parliamentary session.

The situation, against the background furnished by recent Tokyo broadcasts, suggests strongly that there is a crisis of some kind on that hilltop in the heart of Tokyo where the premier's residence, parliament, general staff offices and the war ministry are grouped. Perhaps the recent announcement that the government has drafted bills to give the premier new and unprecedented powers holds the explanation.

One bill would give him sweeping authority over "expansion of war production"; another would Baaa-a-a!

Fairview, Okla., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Stormy weather cut his church attendance so the Rev. C. L. Moser advertised in the local-and-found column. His sheep had strayed, the notice read, and "only 23 came for their feed in the morning."

Shortly thereafter his telephone began to ring. Each time he said "Hello" he got the same reply: "Baaa-a-a!"

Supreme Court Rules for U. Ill. in Action Brought by Attorney General

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The right of the University of Illinois to engage its own legal counsel was established by a state supreme court today in a decision which rejected the claim of Attorney General George F. Barrett that he is the sole legal advisor of all state agencies.

While it held in favor of the university in its legal controversy with Barrett, the court declared that the attorney general acted correctly in impounding of salary checks to Sveinbjorn Johnson, attorney for the university, and his assistant, Norval D. Hodges. The salaries could not legally be paid because the legislature made no specific appropriation for them, the opinion said.

Barrett had ordered the $9,000 a year salary of Johnson and the $3,000 annual salary of Hodges held up on the contention that the university was without authority to employ private counsel.

Threaten Rostov Flank With New Drives Into Caucasus Sector

Moscow, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Russian shock troops were reported pouring westward across the Manych river today 15 miles from the rail junction of Salsk in the drive to isolate the axis army of the Caucasus and clamp on arc of steel about Rostov.

Fervish German efforts to fix a stable line along the left bank of the Manych, a placid stream which flows into the Don 30 miles east of Rostov, are failing, field dispatches said.

Red Star announced that soviet detachments were capturing point after point while the German forces were retreating.

The occupation of the port by the British was regarded, however, as simply a matter of time, perhaps a few days. The Eighth Army's main objective now is the

Bishop Hoban Takes Over New Position

Cleveland, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Before church hierarchy assembled in the sanctuary of St. John's Cathedral, Bishop Edward Francis Hoban today became the first coadjutor in the history of the Cleveland Catholic diocese as he presented the papal decree of his appointment to Archbishop Joseph Schrembs.

The solemn installation ceremony, kept simple at the request of the new coadjutor, was witnessed by two archbishops, 16 bishops, diocesan consultants, monsignori, hundreds of priests and nuns, and delegations representing the 550,000 Catholics in 14 northeastern Ohio counties comprising the diocese.

In the throng were more than 200 priests and laymen from Chicago and Rockford, Ill. Coadjutor-Bishop Hoban, bishop of the Rockford diocese for the past 15 years, previously had been chancellor and auxiliary bishop of the Chicago archdiocese.

Bishop Hoban has the right to succeed Archbishop Schrembs as bishop of the diocese, in event of death or resignation of the latter.

Ring Being Sealed Around Axis Force in African Drive

French, British Units Join Forces in Libya; Axis Penetration

(By The Associated Press)

London, Jan. 21.—The British Eighth Army, with a Fighting French desert column on its left flank, pushed Marshal Rommel's hard pressed rear guard down the coastward slope from Nefusa Ridge to probably within 35 miles of Tripoli today in a continuing advance past the hill village of Tarhuna and the coastal road town of Homs.

The axis scored further gains in the battle of Tunisia, however, pressing armored columns deep into French positions southwest and south of Pont du Fahs in an offensive evidently aimed at winning control of a 50 mile strip of high land as a buffer for its coastal communications routes.

The German drive southwest of Pont du Fahs achieved a small extension of a seven mile advance announced yesterday and an allied headquarters spokesman disclosed that this carried the axis spearhead to a point 25 miles from that central base.

The Germans were reported within about two miles of Robaa. Seizure of the uplands between the valleys would insure protection for a large block of the coastal road and railway upon which the axis evidently depends for an eventual merger of the axis armies of Libya and Tunisia.

British Have Two Tasks

The British Eighth Army had two tasks before it, the occupation of Tripoli and an effort to overtake and engage the main body of Marshal Rommel's army.

The occupation of the towns, one 40 miles southeast and the other 56 miles east of Tripoli, yesterday was announced in today's Cairo communiqué which said Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces pushed on "in close contact with the enemy retreating to the west."

Under steadily mounting aerial assault, the axis withdrawal showed signs of disorganization, but informed sources said there was no authoritative indication that bomb-battered Tripoli was being evacuated.

The occupation of the port by the British was regarded, however, as simply a matter of time, perhaps a few days. The Eighth Army's main objective now is the

London School Blast Raised to 44 Today

London, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The known death toll in the London school smashed by a German bomb yesterday was raised to 44 today after rescue workers worked through the night in the debris.

Three teachers were among the killed, the rest were children. Fifty others were reported injured.

One enemy fighter that appeared off the southeast coast of England was shot into the sea this morning by British fighter planes, authoritative statement said.

35 Killed in Crash of Transport Plane Near Dutch Guinea Jan. 15th

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The crash of a transport plane under contract to the Army, with 26 passengers and nine crew members killed January 15 near the coast of Dutch Guinea in South America was announced today by Major General Harold L. George, commanding general of the air transport command.

Complete identification of the passengers has not been established, and their home addresses have not been learned, but their names included:

Major Eric M. Knight, of Pleasant Valley, Pa., author.

William Hodson of New York, attached to the state department.

P. E. Foxworth, Federal Bureau of Investigation.

H. D. Haberfeld, also of the FBI.

Let Allies Furnish Men, We'll Furnish Supplies; Bankhead

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) proposed today that the United States concentrate on the production of food and weapons and call on the other United Nations to furnish any additional fighting men needed to win the war.

Declaring that some 7,000,000 physically fit Americans already have entered the service and that present plans call for the monthly addition of 400,000 more, Bankhead told the senate:

"In view of the absolute necessity of at least continuing and, if possible, increasing the production of war materials and instruments and implements, it is apparent that it will be dangerous to withdraw from war production many more men for service in the armed forces."

Bankhead said it seemed to him that the most practical solution "is to continue in position to serve ourselves and our allies as an arsenal for the production and supply of food and instruments of war, and call upon our allies to furnish the additional manpower necessary to constitute any sized army that may be used to our advantage."

He said the time had come for congress to "reappraise the entire manpower program with special reference to fixing the maximum number to be inducted into the Army" and to that end offered a resolution calling for hearings on the problem by the senate appropriations committee, of which he is a member.

Must Travel Far

The soldiers who are supplied by Russia and China are in immediate contact with our enemies," he said. "The soldiers supplied by Great Britain and her dominions are in large measure in the same situation."

"Soldiers to be furnished by the United States, if sent across the Atlantic ocean, must travel a distance of more than 3,000 miles and be confronted with the hazards of the German and Italian flotilla of submarines and airplanes. Our soldiers who are sent across the Pacific must travel six or seven thousand miles and encounter the dangers of destruction from the fleet, submarines and airplanes of the Japanese."

"A large number of ships will be needed for conveying and conveying the soldiers as well as the supplies."

Of all the countries in the world, he asserted, China and Russia are in the best position to furnish men, while this nation is in the best position to furnish equipment. He estimated that China alone could raise a 25,000,000-man army.

Like other farm state senators, Bankhead was concerned about keeping enough men on the farms to produce needed food.

Present estimates are that the armed forces will total 9,700,000 by the end of this year.

Hotel in Heart of Peoria's Business District Is Burned

17 Persons Are Injured; Police Begin Check of Hotel Register

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Fire attacked the five story Paskal hotel in the heart of Peoria's business district this morning, injuring at least 17 persons.

Four hours after the outbreak firemen said the blaze in the 150-room structure was under control, though it still burned fiercely. Equipped with the registration list of the 85 guests, police began a check to determine whether any had been trapped. This canvass was expected to require several hours.

Eleven persons were taken to a hospital, suffering from sprains, burns and the effects of smoke, while six others were treated outside the hospital. Scores of roomers escaped by leaping into firemen's nets. Others fled down fire escapes.

B. G. Callahan, owner of the hotel, estimated damage at $300,000.

The blaze, believed to have started on the roof by sparks from a chimney, was discovered after the hotel lights went out. Clerk Edward Highbee and Detective Harry Carrie said the fire had gained considerable headway and dense clouds of smoke filled the hotel.

Hotel Guests Warned

The hotel guests were warned of the fire by telephone calls made by the clerk and Carrie. They were unable, however, to estimate how many of the roomers, if any, were balked in their efforts to escape.

Firemen fought to control the conflagration and prevent it spreading to other buildings, including the Peoria county courthouse and county jail, all located in the courthouse square. Two hours after the blaze was discovered the hotel roof caved in, hampering the work of the firefighters.

Most of the city's fire fighting equipment and ambulances were at the scene.

Because of the density of the smoke, Sheriff Charles L. Swords removed about 35 prisoners in the four story county jail to another

Normal Weather Has Returned to Illinois

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Normal weather returned to Illinois today after two days of below zero temperatures.

Temperatures this morning ranged from 23 above at 10:30 a. m. in Chicago to 25 to 30 above in southern Illinois.

The forecast for tonight and tomorrow was for slowly rising temperatures. H. L. Jacobson of the Chicago weather bureau reported.

Meanwhile all main highways, blocked by heavy snow drifts earlier in the week, were open.

Resourceful

Los Angeles, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Superior Judge Frank M. Smith's aversion to slacks in the court room failed to impede Mrs. Dorothy Abraham. Her resourcefulness divested her of two annoyances—her husband and a cotton dress.

Judge Smith objected to her slacks in court yesterday. So she went to a nearby store, bought a cotton dress, put it on over the slacks and pulled up the legs of the slacks.

Then she returned and got an interlocutory decree of divorce from George Abraham, now in the Army.

Granted her decree, she pulled off the dress and strode out of the courtroom—in her slacks.

Lee Co. Roads in Worst Condition in Twenty Years

Any pronounced snow fall or high wind will cause many farmers in Lee county to be completely marooned for an indefinite period, according to a statement by County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake today.

The storm of the past week, he stated, left county highways in the worst condition in 20 years and plows which have been working continuously since Sunday night were today continuing to dig out roads in sections which are completely snow bound.

A heavy unit purchased a year ago was taken into Palmyra township this morning to open roads which the lighter township plow could not penetrate. As soon as these roads are opened the big plow will go to the vicinity of Steward where roads are closed with drifts deeper than the tops of the fence posts.

Worst South of Ashton

South of Ashton, Superintendent Leake said, the condition was probably at its worst. In many places drifts which were higher than the cab of the big plow unit were formed. The county highway system was being reopened as rapidly as possible and in almost every section of the county, Superintendent Leake said, the residents have been very considerate and patient. As the county maintenance crews battled deep drifts day and night, many farmers invited the men into their homes

Five Axis Submarines Sunk in So. Atlantic in Month Says Admiral

Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, commander of United States naval forces in the South Atlantic, announced today that five axis submarines have been sunk in the last month in the South Atlantic.

"There have been comparatively few sinkings of allied ships in the South Atlantic," Ingram told a press conference, "and we've gotten a high percentage of enemy craft—higher, I believe, than in other zones."

"We can account for five submarines within the last month. Our success is due largely to the fine air forces of the United States and Brazil, which are doing a magnificent job operating from bases extending from Bahia northward."

Don't Throw Away Old License Plates: WPB

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Don't throw away those 1942 state auto license plates.

That was the appeal made today by Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes who announced a statewide campaign would be conducted to collect the old plates for metal salvage.

Salvage boxes have been placed at garages and filling stations throughout Illinois, Hughes said. He explained the campaign was being carried out in cooperation with the War Production Board.

Hughes pointed out each set of metal plates weighs about a pound and that they can be converted into steel.

Hard Coal Diggers Return to Work at Order of President

Of 24,000 Wildcatters Barely 3,000 Known Still To Be Idle

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 21.—(AP)—A three-weeks-old wildcat strike in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields—the nation's costliest in man hours lost since Pearl Harbor—apparently ended today a few hours before a back-to-work deadline set by President Roosevelt.

Enthusiastic miners by the thousands trooped back to their jobs in all major strike closed collieries in what one strike leader described as "a courtesy to the president" rather than an acceptance of defeat.

Of the 24,000 who once participated in the revolt against United Mine Workers' leadership, barely 3,000 were known still to be idle as workers rode down colliery shafts to their pits, many for the first time since Dec. 30.

Two of the four small UMW locals still out announced meetings for later today and many members believed back-to-work votes would result.

Only one of the four was committed to "wait out" Roosevelt's four hour sometime this afternoon, when, he said, the "necessary steps" would be taken to "end this strike which is doing serious damage to the war effort."

Strikers and others took the president's warning to mean that troops would be sent to take over any collieries still strike bound at the end of the 48 hour grace he allowed when his order was telegraphed shortly after noon Tuesday.

Nothing to Gain

"There is nothing to gain by staying out," said Hugh Cavanaugh, president of the South Wilkes-Barre colliery local of Glen Alden Coal Company, the world's largest anthracite producer.

The dues issues started the wave of walkouts December 30. Demands for a $2 a day cost-of-living bonus followed.

Strikers returned to the South Wilkes-Barre, Woodward, Huber & Lance collieries of the Glen Alden Company and the Prospect-Henry colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company.

David Cummings, president of the United Mine Workers' Lance Colliery local, said two miners not members of the local appeared at the mouth of the colliery before the starting whistle blew but left at his request.

There was no disorder.

One Remains Idle

The Exeter colliery local of Payne Coal Company, with 800 members, and the Old Washington colliery, with 400 workers, scheduled voting meetings this morning.

The Westmoreland colliery of Lehigh Valley company voted last night to remain idle and the mine did not open this morning.

The ranks of the strikers, once numbering 25,000, were thinned again last night when three unions decided to return.

NEW STRIKE IN "EGYPT"

Harrisburg, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—A second "wildcat" strike within two weeks in protest to use of a "stagger shift" schedule of employment in Saline county coal mines halted operation of Wasson Coal Company's mine No. 1 today.

Ernest Johnson, executive board member for district No. 11, Progressive Mine Workers of America, said 288 Wasson employees had struck because the company was using the "stagger shift" to permit six day operation of the mine each week without

Taylorville Mines on Six-Day-Week Basis

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Four mines of the Peabody Coal Co. at Taylorville are to be operated on a six-day week basis under a supplemental contract with the United Mine Workers of America, President Ray Edmundson of the union announced.

Edmundson said the new contract provides for time and a half pay for the sixth day that miners work, and affects about 2,000 men. The previous contract called for a five-day week. The supplemental agreement will expire March 1 with the regular two-year contract.

The union president said the Taylorville mines are believed to be the first in Illinois to go on a six-day week schedule in the current drive to boost coal production, but that several other companies have also indicated they wish to enter into six-day agreements with the UMW.

Family Night

January 11 was the annual family night for the Compton Woman's club. Around 75 people were present.

After the delicious supper there was a short business meeting. Mary Kutter explained how members should go about collecting the stories for the Knap Sack Library. Be sure to have all the installments to the story. As the stories are removed from the magazines each magazine will have to be taken apart to remove it. If this is done, there will be ample room to staple the story into the folder, but if the stories are merely torn or cut out the margin is not wide enough to staple together. When you have your stories collected take them to Mary Kutter and she will put them into folders, staple them together and see that they are sent.

Mrs. C. F. Johnston, Jr. of Dixon entertained the crowd with her puppets. She very cleverly portrayed Uncle Sam in a short skit, Little Red Riding Hood, a negro play, and a banker at a circus. After the puppets, Mrs. Lloyd Coleman showed some home movies taken in Wisconsin and Boston. William Archer showed his movies taken on various vacations. The group enjoyed both movies very much. The citizenship chairman had charge of the programs. Hostesses were Mildred Bradley, Josephine Torri, Vera Bettner, Fannie Walter, Mae Bradshaw, Callie Miller, Eunice Stein and Lila Eden.

Oregon Musician Talk of Military Police at Riley

Fort Riley, Kas., Jan. 21—They laughed when he sat down to play. No wonder—he was dressed like a janitor. But they kept on laughing—and applauding, when he had run his gamut of seven instruments and played them all.

This was at an officers' party at the Military Police Replacement Training Center, Fort Riley, Kansas. And Private Mark Himes was the man they started to laugh at and wound up applauding. Since then he and his seven instruments have been the talk of the M. P. R. T. C.

Himes, a former Oregon, Illinois, musician, came in after each of the early acts on the officers' variety show. And each time he played the master of ceremonies to be allowed on the stage, he was waved aside, but left an instrument on the stage. By the time it was his turn, he was absent, and, when dragged to the stage and told to "get cuttin'", he brought on his saw and "cut" the Missouri Waltz, bending the saw to determine the pitch and producing his tone with a violin bow.

Then, accompanied by boogie-woogie pianist Cpl. Leo Hattler, he played a guitar, jug, clarinet, saxophone, and violin, sitting meanwhile before trap drums on and Millie C. Stroud of Carthage, South Dakota; ten grandchildren; many nieces and nephews and a host of other relatives and friends. The services in her memory were held in the Compton Methodist church on December 30. The Rev. James Hagerty officiated. The members of the Eastern Star were present to offer their last rites. The interment was made in Carthage, S. D., on New Year's day.

Cafeteria Supper

The Women's Society of Christian Service is sponsoring a cafeteria supper at the Compton Methodist church Wednesday evening, January 27 at 5:30 o'clock. Everybody welcome to attend this supper.

Red Cross Notes

At the Red Cross meeting last week the sewing was so nearly completed that we will not have another meeting for the time being. However, we would like to have all garments in by February 1, so that they can all be taken to Dixon at one time. The need for surgical dressings being so urgent, we will concentrate all our efforts on making them for the present. To date, there have been 29 registering for this work and we are anxious to have as many as can possibly do so come and work with us.

which he kept his own rhythm. To add to this, he played the clarinet and saxophone at the same time, and played the violin behind his back and with the bow between his knees. (He also plays mandolin, banjo, and a home-made wash-tub-broomstick bass fiddle. But these would have made the act too long.)

Started Study at 12 Himes, a member of the special service entertainment staff at M. P. R. T. C., started studying violin when he was 12 years old, back in Oregon, Ill., and violin is the only instrument on which he has taken lessons. The rest he has "picked up" and put to good use in the dance band he played in and managed on the northern Illinois circuit before he came into the Army.

As well as musician, Himes is an athlete, a stage hand, and a light man. When he came into the Army he was holding four jobs—running a service station, driving a school bus, acting as deputy sheriff, and managing his band. Little odd jobs to keep him busy when the band was not rehearsing or playing. He has sung, too, on station WROK, Rockford. On the special service staff here, he is an efficient stage assistant and handy man.

Himes' training in music theory was at the music school of Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Ia., where he matriculated after leaving Oregon high school. In high school Mark played basketball and football, leading his team as captain from his tackle position, and pole vaulted for the track team. In 1931 he placed in the pole vault event of the Illinois state high school track meet, with a leap of 12 feet.

(Looking at his record, one shouldn't have been surprised if, as he skimmed the bar, he had turned around, smiled, and started playing a zither.)

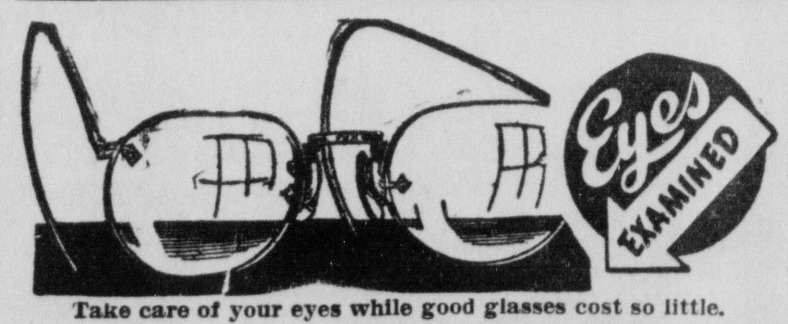

During the first 10 months of 1942 G-E employees were paid $115,000 for 12,250 ideas for saving materials or time in war production.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Old, New Sheriffs of Illinois Meet in Springfield Jan. 28

Will Corelate Plans To Combat Sabotage for Duration of War

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 21—Two hundred and four outgoing and incoming sheriffs of Illinois will assemble at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel, Springfield, for a War Conference on January 28, according to announcement made here today by E. J. (Mike) Welter, outgoing sheriff of LaSalle county and president of the Illinois Sheriffs' Association.

Under the state law a sheriff cannot succeed himself. Therefore the sheriffs whose terms of office have just terminated, will meet with their successors to correlate the plans and campaigns to fight sabotage already under way, thus to assure the continuation of the "back home" fight against the axis. Officers for the current year will be elected.

U. S. Senator Wayland Brooks will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet, bringing the keynote from the national Capitol. Governor Dwight H. Green, Lieutenant-Governor Hugh W. Cross and other state officials will attend.

Other speakers will be Howard Leonard, secretary of the Illinois Department of Agriculture; David Thompson, editor of Prairie Farmer; Gene Eckert, president of the Illinois Grange; Brigadier-General W. E. Gunther, director of Internal Security, Division of Headquarters, 6th Service Command, formerly Director of Public Safety, Denver, Colorado; Col. Thomas Gowenlock, Co-ordinator of all law enforcing agencies in Illinois; Roscoe (Ross) Saunders, inspector in charge of the Illinois Rural Crime Prevention Bureau and Taylor Wilhelm, State's Attorney of LaSalle county.

Distinguished visitors who will take part in the discussions, include the president of the New York Sheriffs' Association; Secretary of the Pennsylvania Association, and several officers of the Indiana Association. Likewise many Illinois counties will be represented by State's Attorneys, county commissioners, and other officers who are active members of the Illinois County Officers' Association.

"Events of the past year have amply proved that the 'grass roots' defense and offense planned and put into effect by the Illinois Sheriff Association are of paramount importance in this war," says President Welter.

"Sabotage in rural sections has been prevented by the organization we have effected, which includes an immense force of men, women and children. Now that the tide of war seems changing, the folks back home must be more and more on the alert against sabotage crimes begotten of desperation."

"Some trains have been wrecked, though very few. Recently a gas line was broken and ignited, we believe by saboteurs, but our organization is actively working. From the school boy or girl on the farm, or in the villages; from adults in the same fields, reports are constantly flowing to county sheriffs and thence to the U. S. B. I."

"With many thousands of loyal and energetic volunteers, we have been helping to protect electric power lines and stations; gas and oil pipelines; railroad bridges and culverts; industrial plants engaged in the manufacture of munitions and supplies. And in far flung rural sections a stranger has the finger put on him in a hurry."

"This campaign must be continued with unremitting energy. That is why the outgoing sheriffs at our War Conference will place in the hands of their successors

Billion Dollars Is Paid Annually For Relief From Colds

One billion dollars in cold cash would buy a few war bonds, and yet this is the amount of money which American citizens are paying each year for the privilege of having a cold, according to Miss Fannie Brooks, R. N., health education specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Just now there is a great deal of emphasis about "staying on the job," but there is one time when a person should use his best judgment and that is when he has contracted a cold or feels one coming on. Sacrificing one day's work for the sake of getting well will save several days of work in the long run and at the same time will stop the spread of cold germs from one defense worker to another, Miss Brooks stated. According to past records, at least three out of every four persons have two or more colds each year, while one out of every four Americans suffer from four or five colds a year.

Colds usually come on when the body resistance is down. The inability to fight off the cold virus may be the result of such factors as fatigue resulting from too long hours or too heavy work, insufficient sleep and rest, poor selection of foods, prolonged exposure to drafts, sudden chilling when overheated, wet clothing, inadequate clothing and diseased tonsils and adenoids.

Abundant Supply of Citrus Fruits Found in Markets

Oranges, grapefruit and tangerines, the vitamin-C trio for winter-time meals, are back on the VFS list, VFS, for the benefit of homemakers who have never had to worry much about meal planning and vitamin values, stands for "victory food specials" and, once again, the citrus fruits come to the front for health and variety in meals.

They are being pushed throughout the nation at the present time, according to Miss Elizabeth Jensen, extension specialist in foods and nutrition, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, because they are a plentiful food and because they can bolster wintertime meals which otherwise are quite certain to be lacking in some vitamins at this time of year.

Oranges are literally an ABC fruit, for they contain vitamins A and B-one in addition to C. If a person obtains a glassful of orange juice a day, he may be sure he has his full vitamin-C requirement for the day. This vitamin helps to counteract tiredness, laziness, and is necessary for healing of cuts and wounds and preventing serious aftereffects of disease. Grapefruit performs much the same role in the diet.

While these foods are plentiful on the market, families should take full advantage of their abundance and not drain the supply of commercially packed fruits and cellar stocks of home canned fruit. Fresh fruits can readily take the place of tomatoes, thus relieving the demand for commercially packed tomatoes and tomato juice.

The fact that these fruits have been given valuable transportation space indicates they are considered essential to a good diet, Miss Jensen pointed out.

A refrigerated container, originally developed for transporting small quantities of perishable foods, is now being used to carry blood from Red Cross collecting centers to laboratories where it is processed for shipment overseas.

A Thought for Today

Better it is that thou shouldst not vow, than that thou shouldst vow and not pay.—Ecclesiastes 5:5.

'Tis not the many oaths that makes the truth, But the plain single vow that is vow'd true.—Shakespeare.

Diplomat Flynn

It was inevitable, but it is unfortunate that initial attacks on appointment of Edward J. Flynn as minister to Australia should have come from Republican senators.

The question of Mr. Flynn's fitness for this important diplomatic post is not and should not be made a partisan matter. The sole issue is whether by training, by temperament, by mental caliber, by ethical sensitivity, by demonstrated achievement and recognized standing in the American community, Mr. Flynn can be a good diplomat.

In determining the answer to that question, one is entitled to whatever preliminary suspicions may be raised by the general feeling that Mr. Flynn is being "kicked upstairs" because, as national chairman, he has become a liability to his chief.

He has become a liability in the opinion of competent political observers, because in the conduct of national party affairs he did not rise above his parochial, nepotistic background.

He became a liability because of the Belgian paving blocks episode. A Bronx grand jury found that he had no legal liability in the matter. It did not exonerate him on the ethical charge that committed—with no indication of scruples—he permitted city-paid workmen to pave the courtyard of his country estate with city-owned imported paving blocks.

He never asked for the blocks, the grand jury said. But neither—though he is a lawyer of presumed talent—did he even mildly renege against violation of the law for his personal benefit.

In the Bronx Mr. Flynn rolled up consistent majorities. When his field was broadened, he did nothing effective to temper party disaster.

His public activities have consisted of three items: first, his local political chairmanship; second, his service as New York secretary of state by appointment of Mr. Roosevelt, where he did not shine; third, a very successful law practice resting heavily on political patronage.

Are these the materials out of which a high-ranking diplomat is made?

A good politician might be trained thereby for diplomacy. How about one who did not succeed in any broad field; who in his own narrow bailiwick showed exceptional talent at making enemies, at exciting resentment?

Will our ally Australia feel honored to welcome Ed Flynn, Tammany politician, as minister from the United States?

Brotherhood Week

Mark this in your calendar now. It is almost a month ahead, but mark it now and study it: Brotherhood week begins February 19, and it is more important than ever, this year, that we should give it some thought.

Brotherhood week is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, an organization which strives to promote tolerance. Tolerance is needed. If it fails, this country, populated by all manner of men, will suffer endlessly.

We are not a nation. We have no national or racial distinguishing marks. Italians may be dark of complexion and Scandinavians may be fair—but Americans are both. We are dark, fair and intermediate; we are tall, stout, thin and medium; some of us are platinum blonds and others are black. We have all kinds of religions and a number of accents.

An unworthy attitude is that which causes a man to say: "I don't like that guy. He's a Polack"—or an Englishman, a Jew, a Frenchman or what have you.

When we look at a man for the first time we have no right either to like or dislike him until we know what kind of man he is. If we find he is a decent fellow it should make no difference to us what nationality he may own or whether he is dark, fair or middling.

By thoughtless discrimination we often drive certain groups back upon others of their kind when in fact they may wish to circulate freely, associate pleasantly and be one of the great body of Americans. The more we give them the cold shoulder, the more they will be forced to collect in little groups, to retain or even accentuate their characteristics.

There is no racial characteristic that condemns one nationality to feature bank robbers, another to run confidence games and a third to creep in alleys with blackjacks. The average tendency of the average man is to do the right thing unless we make him feel inferior or drive him into certain unsocial attitudes.

Brotherhood week should lead us to examine the other fellow not for his nationality or religion, but to see merely whether he's decent—and probably he is.

Yank Is for Fighters

A recent editorial suggestion that civilians subscribe for the Army weekly Yank failed to make clear one important angle. Yank is not for civilians. Only men in the armed services can be subscribers. The Army insists that the publication must not even appear to be in competition with civilian newspapers and magazines.

What was suggested was that civilians should subscribe in the name of soldiers, sailors and marines who would enjoy Yank but are not in position to pay for it themselves.

Yank's headquarters, to which such subscriptions can be sent, are at 205 East 42nd Street, New York City.

The hundred billion budget may be hard on us, but what it will buy will be a lot harder on the axis.

Lodges and Patriotic Orders

American Legion—Dixon post No. 12 of the American Legion admitted its first two members who served in World War 11 at its regular meeting Wednesday night. The two are Edmund W. Pierce of the United States Marine corps, a former head of the Sons of American Legion post No. 12, and Vincent O'Malley of the Army, whose brother, Urban O'Malley, was a charter member of the post.

Both O'Malleys and Pierce were recently discharged from the service. Only service men of World War 11 who have been discharged are eligible to join the American Legion.

Sidney Bacharach of New York City, who served with the 26th Division during World War 1 also became a member of the local post last evening.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington—Signs of a great demoralization in the German army are becoming apparent all along the Russian front.

There is just a chance, about a one to five wager—make it no larger than that yet—that Hitler will have to draw his armies all the way back into the Ukraine and perhaps out of Russia altogether.

The story behind the lifting of the siege of Leningrad is the same as that of Stalingrad and the south Caucasus. It is a tale of the hardships of an army trying to spend a second winter in a strange land of unbelievable cold, snow, and ice, facing a relentless foe able to take advantage of conditions terrifying to strangers.

The Reds launched excellent attacks to relieve Leningrad last summer and they tried against last fall. These lasted for weeks. There was nothing particularly new in the strategy or mechanical deployments to make their current one successful in seven days, except the greatly weakened morale of the German army.

This same weakness was simultaneously shown in the Nazi loss of Millerovo and Kamensk, where the Russians actually claimed to have crossed the Donets river. The river is an excellent defensive German position and the line on which Hitler was supposed to make his stand.

If the Russians establish themselves on the west bank in any force, the Nazis will have to look far behind them for another good stopping place. These signs that the German fighting spirit is waning at last, may be subject to dangerous over-interpretation. No one can safely guess yet whether the cracking morale will widen and accelerate sufficiently to complete the collapse of German resistance. Too much depends on the unknown factor of Russian offensive power.

But the crack is evident now and all eyes here are glued on it.

At every point where the British expected Rommel to make a stand, he has deployed his troops, as if to fight strongly, and then sneaked away as soon as the British moved up their heavy forces for the assault. This he did at El Agheila, the Wadi-Zemzem ravine and now at Misurata.

The expectation here is that he will establish himself on the line of Homs where a mountain range runs back from the sea in a south-westerly direction, protecting Tripoli.

But that mountain range is steepest on the side toward Tripoli. The approaches from the British side are gradual and, therefore, the range is not as good a defensive position as some that Rommel already has passed.

But if he does not put up a real fight for Tripoli and attempts to escape along the coast into Tunisia, he will have given us the best prize of the African front since Bengazi.

Tripoli is an excellent port. It can be swiftly cleaned of wreckage, and the British can use it as well as the several superior airfields surrounding it, for the final closing in on the axis forces in Tunisia.

Some amateur strategists think Rommel may cut straight west through Tunisia and attempt to fall on our flank and rear. Military men discount the possibility as Rommel, in such a suicidal undertaking, would have the British Eighth army in his rear, constantly harassing his line of supplies.

Another current idea is that Americans might organize an expedition to occupy Sicily and cut off the German line of supplies, instead of fighting in Tunisia, but this would hardly work, as long as the Nazis have airfields in Tunisia, Italy and Sardinia which could maintain an air supremacy over our landing parties.

So it looks like the expected close-grip tussle for Tunisia must be followed through on orthodox lines.

My informants swear this is true, and I will retell it, because it should be even if it isn't.

When Brigadier General Somervell, chief of army supply and the father of the lavish $70,000,000 palace of the war department across the Potomac river, was public works administrator in New York, he was called before a congressional committee.

A congressman accused him of being a Communist for indiscriminately feeding loafers at government expense, and made General Somervell so angry that when he left the stand, he went to a hardware store and bought a screw and a nut which he carefully wrapped in a package and mailed to the congressman with his card. The other day, General Somervell's mail contained a package, returning the screw and nut with a letter from the congressman which is supposed to have read somewhat like this:

"I have just spent the day traveling around your building and I think these should be returned to you."

An original playlet, "A Day in Mexico City," that was written and staged by eighth graders of Mrs. Edna Pine Friedrichs and Mrs. Dorothy Nelson, transported members to the North Central Parent-Teacher association south of the border on Tuesday afternoon. The play, presented in native costume, supplements art work taught by Miss Hope Edson, music by Miss Marion Lawson, and physical education by Mrs. Alice Watson.

A large painting of a Mexican scene, executed by Miss Edson's art classes, was the background for the two-scene play. In addition, there was a stage display of Mexican pottery, dolls, serapes, floral arrangements, baskets, cooking utensils, fruits, and cooking methods.

The opening scene depicted the outskirts of Mexico City, followed by scene in the market place. Don Brewer gave the prologue, and the cast of characters included:

Women Have Their Say . . . ABOUT SAVINGS

WHY DO I BUY WAR BONDS

By Freida Zylstra

I want the things that happen to me to happen to other people, here and the world over. I mean having enough to eat, a healthy, pleasant place to live, opportunity for education, self-government, and self-respect. Winning the war is step number one toward that end. Buying War Bonds is the small contribution women like myself can make to help win the war. That is why I buy bonds to the limit of my pay check after the essentials are covered.

That summarizes the businesslike, logical reasons why I buy War Savings Bonds. But when the soul-searching comes, the reasons are more personal and probably less logical. They may be explained something like this, and possibly other women will understand what I mean.

My father has a sister living in one of the oppressed countries. That sister, youngest in a large family, is scarcely older than I, and I have always felt close to her though we have never seen each other.

After waiting for months and months for the threat of war to pass, and finally giving up in despair, she was married 2 years ago. Word reached us in due course that a baby was on the way. Then the country was invaded.

Even though we were not at war, no word came through. The time came and went and month followed month. Finally, in November last, the announcement came. No blue-ribboned card. Instead an envelope littered with the heavy smudge of the "Deutch" censor. No long, newsy letter. Just simple statements. Mother and little girl were doing well. Medical attention was "adequate." Food was fine. The house was warm enough. The weather was delightful. Without exception everything was ideal.

The reason for this unnatural note was obvious: If you desperately wanted the announcement of so vital a matter as the birth of a baby girl to be sure to pass the censor, you glowed with rosy-hued appreciation of everything.

When I buy War Savings Bonds, I think of that baby girl, her mother, and her countrymen. I want them to have the things I have, spiritual and material. The very least I can do is invest in War Savings Bonds.

Could You Face a Soldier?

By RUTH MILLETT

How would you like to have to make the following confessions to a grimy, weary soldier on Guadalcanal?

"No, I'm not denying myself anything to put money into War Bonds. I'm buying things with my money. After all, you know, what is going to be rationed tomorrow—and I don't intend to be caught short."

"No, I'm not spending any of my time on volunteer war work. Most of it sounds pretty silly to me. It is all right for the people who need some busy work to keep them happy, but I think that is about all most of it amounts to.

"No, I'm not trying to abide by voluntary meat rationing. Why should I? If I don't buy it some one else will."

"Sure, I'm having fun as usual. Why not? You might as well have fun while you can."

"Sure, I'm still traveling as much as I want to. I figure if they don't want us to travel on trains they ought to ration travel."

You would feel a little ashamed if you had to make any of those confessions to a young man who is risking his neck fighting for you, wouldn't you?

Yet you may have to admit to yourself that some of them are true.

Take Stock of Yourself

It might not be a bad idea if once in a while during the year to come we would take a good look at ourselves and our attitudes and see if we would be ashamed to have a soldier on a fighting front pass judgment on them.

It isn't a foolish idea at all. For if there is anyone who has a right to judge what we civilians are doing with our time, our money, our energy and our influence, it is the man who has given up everything to fight the war, not just with his spare time and his spare money, but with himself.

make him supreme in the cabinet, with the right to direct the actions of his colleagues or assume the functions of any of them if the need arises. Hitherto the premier's position has been that of the first minister among equals. The proposed change means a vital alteration in constitutional law, and since the constitution is regarded as the emperor's gift to his people its amendment is not to be undertaken lightly. Tojo must want that additional authority badly.

On the surface it would appear that Tojo, who has come up from obscurity within the last five years, was trying to make himself a dictator on the Mussolini pattern. But such a simple explanation does not fit the Japanese way. Distrust of individual dictatorship is deep rooted in the Japanese political mind.

Tojo holds his present position of great power not as an individual but as the member of the ruling military caste whose assignment happens to be command of the home front. His post is to be considered more or less subordinate with those of Admiral Yamamoto, who commands in the war at sea; General Terauchi, who commands the armies in the conquered southern areas; or General Umezo, chief of the Kwantung army in Manchukuo. The big decisions are reached by still more senior generals and admirals who control Imperial headquarters, the supreme war council and the general staffs.

What is sought now is more power for the army's representative in the government, not for Tojo the individual, to wipe out the possibility that any minister could hamper the army's plans.

The chief emphasis obviously is on war production, an emphasis that becomes almost frenzied as the realization grips the militarists that Japan is tremendously overmatched in this phase and that American industry is producing miracles.

There seems to be a ruthless campaign to bring Japan's entire economy under military control. Japanese capital and industry, still largely in the hands of men with some foreign experience and a world outlook far more realistic than that of the army's modern Samurai, has not gone along with the economic mobilization program with 100 per cent enthusiasm. This may be the source of the opposition that Tojo is trying to stamp out.

I received a reply convincing me they were competent.—Wee, G. Board.

Long Telephone Calls

Washington, Jan. 21—(AP)—Long distance telephone users who require more than three minutes to complete a call will save about $22,800,000 a year, the Federal Communications Commission estimates, through new rate reductions.

The FCC announced last night that the American Telephone & Telegraph Company agreed to cut its overtime rates by making the charge for each additional minute one fourth of the charge for the first three minutes instead of a third as at present. The charge for the first three minutes remains the same.

Total reductions in long line revenues were estimated at $50,700,000 a year.

The new rates become effective Feb. 15 for the long lines and March 1 for the associated companies.

Endorse for Flynn

Washington, Jan. 21—(AP)—Endorsement of Edward J. Flynn as admirably fitted to be minister to Australia was given today by Joseph Daniels as the senate foreign relations committee awaited appearance of six New York witnesses tomorrow in its inquiry into Flynn's qualifications.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia is among the New York witnesses requested to testify tomorrow. Chairman Connally said the committee would continue to ask for voluntary appearances by witnesses, in probing Republican charges filed against Flynn but that subpoenas would be resorted to if necessary.

Urges Development of Strip Coal Mines

Kansas City, Jan. 21—(AP)—O. G. Bitler, president of the Westgate-Greenland Oil Co., of Nevada, recommends relaxation of government regulations to permit development of strip coal mines and shallow oil fields.

Bitler told a special senate committee yesterday this was one way to ease the midwest fuel problem, which, he said, was not one of scarcity but of how much fuel can be withdrawn from other areas and how much is to be left for Midwest consumption.

POUND BURMA BASES

New Delhi, Jan. 21—(AP)—United States heavy bombers made a punishing attack Tuesday on railway installations at Thazi, a rail junction in central Burma 80 miles south of Mandalay, an American army communiqué announced today.

This was part of a series of daily assaults in which the American and British air forces based in India are pounding Japanese bases throughout Burma.

R.A.F. bombers, continuing their round-the-clock assaults on Japanese bases in central and western Burma, blasted the airdrome at Toungoo last night and again attacked off-bombed Akyab island, a British communiqué announced today.

These raids followed daylight attacks on scattered targets, including a train in the Magwe area and an airdrome at Schweb, the announcement said. The preceding night Wellington bombers were reported to have bombed Heho airdrome and the railway junction at Nyingyan.

JAP POSITIONS CRUMBLE

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Jan. 21—(AP)—Japanese positions in the Sanananda point area of New Guinea are crumbling under the steady blows of allied jungle fighters, a headquarters spokesman said today.

There is still an enemy pocket northwest of the spot where the Sanananda road meets the beach, and between Giruwa and Tarakena, the Japanese have attempted to break out.

Today's headquarters bulletins said "Our forces have further reduced the enemy's remaining positions" and the spokesman added his observation that "the whole thing is crumbling."

Allied bombers went out again on widespread forays yesterday, the communiqué reported.

The men employed at those mines returned to work last Saturday after L. Neal Ellis, War Labor Board conciliator, promised to assist in attempts to settle the controversy.

Ellis, asserting the government expected miners to realize the urgent need for coal and to return to their jobs, said the strike had called attention of the war manpower officials to the surplus of manpower in the coal mining industry.

Everything Being Set Back One Week in Major Leagues

Season Will Open on April 21 and Close Sunday, Oct. 3rd

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Everything is being set back a week in the coming major league baseball season—including the opening, the close and the All-Star game—and even the "holdout" campaign, which precedes each pennant fight, may be in for an enforced delay.

This was indicated yesterday when President William Harridge of the American League met with President Ford Frick of the National League to complete the schedule adjustments brought about by wartime necessity.

Harridge disclosed that all clubs in his circuit had been asked to hold up player contracts until the Director of Economic Stabilization rules whether baseball comes under the salary freezing order. Frick said National League clubs were withholding contracts for the same reason, with the exception of the New York Giants, who are proceeding under a regional ruling.

Baseball's advisory council, headed by Commissioner K. M. Landis, has asked for the national ruling on the matter of salaries, and players won't receive their contracts until it is made. Thus, no player can start his annual spring "holdout" for more money until he finds out how much he's being offered in the first place.

Season Opens April 21
The 1943 season, the league presidents agreed, will open on Wednesday, April 21, and close Sunday, Oct. 3. The annual All-Star game will be played Tuesday, July 13, at Shibe park in Philadelphia, with the Athletics of the American League as sponsors.

Since the Washington Senators open on the road, they will be hosts to the Philadelphia Athletics in a preliminary game, April 20, under a time-honored arrangement of having a special opening game at the nation's Capital every other year.

Here is the schedule for the April 21 opening:

American League—Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia, Chicago at St. Louis, Detroit at Cleveland, National League—New York at Brooklyn, Philadelphia at Boston, St. Louis at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at Chicago.

Home openers for the teams that start on the road will be Tuesday, April 27, in the National League and either April 26 or 27 in the American League. The schedule for these games:

American League—New York at Boston, Philadelphia at Washington, Cleveland at Chicago, St. Louis at Detroit, National League—Boston at New York, Brooklyn at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, Chicago at St. Louis.

With each team making no more than three trips into any other city, the officials estimated that 2,400,000 man-miles would be saved in transportation during the regular season. This, together with the mileage saved by training close to home, represents a total saving of approximately 5,000,000 man-miles, they said.

State Normal Finding Season Full of Grief

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—State Normal, which figured in the Illinois Intercollegiate Conference basketball championship for four successive years, continues to find the current season full of grief.

Last night the defending title holders lost their third straight game to Eastern Teachers of Charleston, 39-31.

It was Eastern's second win in three conference starts and lifted the Charleston team into second place behind Southern Teachers of Carbondale, which is unbeaten in two games.

In other state college activity last night, Bradley became the 15th consecutive victim of the rampaging Camp Grant Cagers, 58-38, while Illinois Wesleyan put on a big second half to overtake Eureka and win 43-37.

BABE REINSTATED

Los Angeles, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. George Zaharias, the former Mildred Babe Didrikson, famed woman track and field athlete of the 1932 Olympic games, said today she had received word from the U. S. Golf Association of her reinstatement as an amateur golfer.

South Dakota during 1939 had a tuberculosis death rate of 26.7 per 100,000 population.

Justice Witschke awarded the amount yesterday after Mrs. Dempsey, a former stage actress, asked $1,500 alimony and $10,000 counsel fees when she filed a counter suit for separation here Jan. 8.	125	125	125	375

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Bill Klem, boss National League umpire who has been calling 'em from behind the plate for 40 years, took a look into the future today and predicted:	125	125	125	375

"There'll always be baseball. You can't keep down a sport that is bred into the heart and soul of America. What's a few wartime restrictions to a grand old game like that?"	125	125	125	375

Thus Klem, at his Miami Beach residence, responded to news that the major teams must train close to their home grounds, and that the days of sun-washed spring camps were over for the duration.	125	125	125	375

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The aristocrats of Illinois high school basketball, those undefeated quintos whose select roster has been whittled down from 950 to nine, are gradually being forced to share the limelight with some 44 others who have dropped only one or two games.	125	125	125	375
--	-----	-----	-----	-----

At least 20 teams have suffered only one defeat and another 24 have been beaten only twice. Claiming attention, too, are a dozen others who've lost three or four games, but still roll merrily along at the expense of rivals with higher win and lost percentages.	125

22 Hernia Cases Treated in Dixon

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21—Nineteen cases of hernia, referred by the Selective Service system to the State Department of Public Welfare, were cured, and the men made fit for military service during the six months ending in January, 1943, according to a report submitted to Governor Dwight H. Green by Rodney H. Brandon, State Welfare Director.

Seventy-four of the men submitted to an operation by Dr. Frederick Grunck, Chicago, chief surgeon of the department, and the others were treated by local or staff physicians. All were rehabilitated without charge in state hospitals.

"The work of the state welfare department, in co-operation with the state medical office of Selective Service is a part of the program initiated by Governor Green to rehabilitate Illinois' young men and render them physically fit for military service," Brandon said.

Those who are unable to pay for medical attention are treated without charge.

The number of hernia cases treated at each of the state hospitals in the last six months is as follows: At Dixon, 22; Anna, 15; Peoria, 15; Manteno 10; East Moline, 8; Chicago, 8; Alton, 7; Kan-kakee, 5; Elgin, 5; and Jacksonville, 4.

Illegal Operation Admitted by Errol Flynn's Accuser

Name of Man Involved Not Mentioned During Actor's Trial

Los Angeles, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The parents and sister of Peggy Lurie Satterlee were summoned to testify in the statutory rape trial of screen actor Errol Flynn today, as police officers declared they would demand investigation of her statement that she underwent an operation which the state stipulates was an abortion.

Miss Satterlee, tall, graceful and brunette, who charges she was twice ravished by Flynn, admitted under driving cross-examination yesterday that an operation had been performed upon her, incidentally during the period between the week end cruise she made aboard Flynn's yacht Soroco in August, 1941, and the time of her questioning last fall concerning that episode.

Lieut. Robert W. Bolling and Sgt. Edward Walker, of the police juvenile control division, who were investigators in the Flynn case, stated after the close of the day's court session they would take action as soon as the Flynn trial is concluded.

"We questioned the Satterlee girl again and again about other men in her life, and she denied there had been any," said Lieut.

Bolling. "Now this comes as a complete surprise to us. We certainly shall do something about it. If her statement is true, a crime was committed and an investigation is imperative."

Name Not Mentioned

The name of the man involved was not mentioned in her cross-examination by Jerry Giesler, Flynn's attorney, which elicited testimony on Miss Satterlee's part that she had told Deputy District Attorney Thomas W. Cochran of the operation in relating incidents of her life. The latter stipulated that the operation in question was an abortion.

The evidence, Superior Judge Leslie E. Still cautioned the jury, was introduced solely for the purpose of showing the state of mind and motive of the witness in giving her testimony.

"Did you not request the district attorney's office that they would not prosecute that man?" Giesler asked her. "And did they not promise they would not prosecute that man if you testified in this case?"

Given No Assurance

Miss Satterlee said she had made such a request but had been given no such assurance.

"They told me it would not be brought up," the witness replied.

"You knew the operation you had was a criminal act, didn't you?" the attorney asked.

"Yes, sir," she replied.

"You knew the district attorney's office could prosecute for such a criminal act?"

"Yes, sir."

"You knew they could prosecute not only you but that man?"

"No, sir; I didn't think of it."

Under the same ruling, Miss Satterlee testified that she had been in constant custody of various policemen since last fall, and had been taken to picture shows, cafes and for bowling, and on a ten-day trip to San Francisco.

All this, she said, was without expense to her, but she explained later that the cost of the San Francisco trip was paid by the policeman who accompanied her. The officer's husband, Navy man, was about to be ordered to other duty, and she wished to spend Christmas with him there.

Chilean Authorities
Act to Curb Aliens

Santiago, Chile, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Chilean authorities undertook today the suppression of axis espionage and liquidation of fifth column activity following Chile's rupture of relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

The government pledged that no steps would be taken against axis nationals who abided by Chile's newly adopted position.

It was estimated there are about 20,000 German nationals in Chile, about 12,000 Italians and 700 Japanese.

President Juan Antonio Rios explained Chile's action last night in a broadcast address to the nation, saying it had been done for the defense of democracy and continental solidarity.

He said "no nation and no individual can look with isolated indifference" on the war.

Food Production on Home Front Vital
Job for This Year

A tighter food situation in 1943 is expected to lead to a further stepping up of home food production, according to Mrs. Ruth Crawford Freeman, home accounts specialist, and representative from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture to the recent national outlook conference in Washington, D. C.

Smaller supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables available for civilians, smaller supplies of canned fruits and vegetables, together with reduced supplies of milk and possibly of fats and oils are seen as the major factors to touch off a greater-than-ever food production drive for the farm family next spring. Foods which are not expected to be on the "squeezed" list are cereals, while there is anticipated a larger amount of sweet potatoes, dried beans, poultry, eggs and meats later on.

Increased quantities of foods raised plus the increased price of such commodities will mean a higher money value for farm furnished food, said Mrs. Freeman. This will help the non-cash farm income which in turn permits greater freedom in the use of the family's net cash income. As the 1942 farm family financial picture stands, the cash farm income for the United States as a whole will be found nearly a third larger than in 1941.

The fact that families will have more ready cash and that home production of larger quantities of food can aid the national food situation ties in definitely with another war goal—increased savings. Mrs. Freeman pointed out. Families will find themselves in a position to reduce excessive debts to a safe basis, to purchase bonds as a ready means to have some liquid assets, to buy bonds and stamps as a means of building up a financial reserve which can help offset the depreciation of durable goods used up during the war period and to anticipate the post-war period.

Outlook for the immediate future is clouded by the fact that there is a lack of man power; there is a drastic need for metals, grease and other materials necessary to the war effort, and there is a scarcity of certain commodities as the result of reduction in manufacturing.

This situation can be partially met by the protection of family health and safety and by cooperation in carrying out home work efficiently; by salvaging equipment, clothing, unused metals and waste materials; by conserving and repairing promptly all equipment and furnishings, and by helping control prices and willingly accepting rationing, Mrs. Freeman indicated.

Canned Baby Foods
Will Be Included in Point Rations

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration announced today that many canned baby foods will be rationed under the same point system to be used for rationing of processed fruits and vegetables.

Harold B. Rowe, director of OPA's foods rationing division, said the announcement was intended "to clarify any misunderstanding that may exist regarding the baby foods that are to be included in the new rationing program."

No date has been set for the start of point rationing of processed fruits and vegetables, but the program will begin as soon as OPA has set up necessary machinery. Points required in the purchase of various items will vary depending upon their scarcity.

The number of foods which OPA may ration was increased yesterday to cover evaporated and condensed milk, canned fish and shellfish, jams, jellies, preserves, pickles, relishes and canned products containing meat but at his first press conference price administrator Prentiss M. Brown said that did not mean they would be put under rationing immediately.

Baby foods to be rationed, Rowe said, will include strained or chopped foods made of fruits, vegetables, or meats and put up in sealed cans or glass jars, generally 4 or 6½ ounce containers. Such baby foods as canned milk, canned milk formulas, and canned prepared cereals, are not included among the processed foods to be rationed.

The inclusion of many canned baby foods in the rationing program, Rowe said, "is not necessarily an indication that supplies are short," but rather a move to safeguard supplies for the purpose for which they are intended.

Piped Oil to Reach
Norris City Soon

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Chicago office of the Petroleum Administrator for War has announced oil will reach Norris City, Ill., during the first week in February on the war emergency pipeline from Longview, Texas.

More than 120,000 barrels of crude and fuel oils will be added to the volume moving to the east coast by tank cars out of Norris City and by means of a pipe line connection with the Texas Empire Line to Chicago, the PAW said.

Less than five miles of the 530 mile western stretch of the 24 inch tube remain to be welded and repairs at the Mississippi river crossing, recently damaged by flood, are proceeding. As rapidly as the new units of the line are completed, oil is pushed through at the rate of 30,000 barrels a day, the PAW announced.

"Old Timer", Chicken
Thief, Brought Down

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The daily raids on chicken yards in suburban Worth township are believed over—the thief shot to death by nine farmers and state police.

The thief, nicknamed "Old Timer" because of his success in stealing chickens—500 in two months—was trailed for seven hours before he was brought down.

C. J. Albrecht, staff taxidermist at Field Museum, identified "Old Timer" as a prairie or brush wolf of the coyote family, but bigger than most coyotes of the west.

Whether or not the United States can escape serious inflation in this war may depend largely on how successfully the public, the price administrators and the rationing boards can prevent development of a black market.

The parallel to that can be observed in prohibition. No one ever made any accurate survey of the number of people who abided by the prohibition law, but even if it ran as high as 90 per cent, still it was the 10 per cent who patronized the bootlegger that made the law unenforceable. The same thing goes for the black market. If 90 per cent of the people buy only within their rationed allowances of foods, gasoline and fuel oil, price control and rationing schedules can still be broken down if 10 per cent start buying bootlegged supplies.

The black market, rationing officials believe, doesn't consist of individual trades between families over the back fence. Rationing systems have to be set up on the principle that everyone consumes pretty much the same quantities of the rationed items, whether he does or not.

Administratively, it would be impossible to set up any rationing system that would take into consideration the varying tastes of every Jack Spratt and his wife and his neighbors and in-laws. From a practical standpoint, therefore, the basis for every rationing scheme is the assumption that every citizen is entitled to the opportunity to get his equal share of every item rationed.

It isn't a case of "Come the revolution, you'll take coffee, and you'll take sugar in your coffee and like it," though ever person holding a ration card is entitled to his pound of coffee and his pound of sugar when the time rolls round for a ticket to be due.

Swapping Is Okay
So, if the family of Dick Diabetic doesn't use sugar and the family of Ike Insomniac doesn't use coffee, there is no objection on the part of the rationing boards if the Diabetics draw their allowance of sugar which they don't use and swap it with the Insomniacs for coffee which they have drawn and don't use. That isn't considered a black market operation.

Where the black market comes into the picture is when some Sam Slicker organizes a route, makes the rounds to collect whatever undistributed supplies he can lay his hands on, then goes into the business of selling these surpluses at fancy prices and without benefit of ration stamps. They have to be fancy prices because the black market operator has to pay the going retail price to build up his stocks, cover his costs of operation and still make a profit.

The money is there for paying the fancy price. Income is up. The supply of goods to buy with that income is down. Not just the things like automobiles and refrigerators and radios and toasters which aren't being made any more, but things like towels, candy, infants' wear and the essential foods like butter, meat, and canned goods.

Comes the Breakdown
When that situation obtains, you have the makings of a black market. First price ceilings are broken, then rationing is broken. Going back to the prohibition parallel, one of the reasons bootlegging thrived in that era was that everyone was prosperous, making more money than he knew what to do with, and therefore perfectly willing to pay outlandish prices for terrible hooch.

Policing a black market is almost as impossible as policing prohibition. Enforcement of price and rationing regulations is in the hands of less than 2500 paid officials, whereas enforcement of prohibition was the work of a million or more law enforcement officers.

Enforcement of rationing and price regulation begins really with every housewife who goes to market, every clerk behind a counter.

If the country escapes inflation it will be only because the people at home won't put up with a black market.

NO EXCEPTION

When President Gerard Swope returned to Schenectady—once more as executive head of the company from which he had retired on January 1, 1940—he had to take a physical examination, the same as all new employees and all former employees who return to work after any considerable absence.

Despite the fact that he had been president for 17 years and honorary president for almost three more, he reported at the hospital as dutifully and promptly as any new employee—and passed with flying colors.

Later the same day he had lunch in the company dining room, where wartime rationing is no respecter of persons. The rule is one cup of coffee to a customer, and it became the duty of a waitress to inform her boss.

To the accompaniment of such universally leveling experiences did G. E.'s third—and fifth—president return to the office.

St. Petersburg All But Taken Over by Uncle Sam's Forces

An interesting description of St. Petersburg, Fla., in wartime is contained in a letter received by Dixon friends from Miss Nancy and Charles Brown of Ashton, who are spending the winter at the "White City" in the south. Excerpts from the letter follow:

"Nearly the entire town is taken over by the Army, Navy, and flying forces. They occupy nearly all of the large hotels in the city, and the big hotel at Passagilla was purchased by the government as a naval hospital. The Chamber of Commerce estimates 12,000 winter visitors here now, compared with 150,000 in years gone by.

"Some of the theaters are taken over by the armed forces as class rooms. Military police patrol the streets and water front day and night—and before I could do any fishing, I had to get an identification card from the Master of the Port here. There are over 4,000 empty apartments and houses here. There are 60 families in our camp, compared with 175 last year. But the sun is just as warm as other years, the water's just as blue, and the fish are biting pretty well.

"There has been no cold or even cool weather yet, and flowers and the trees are at their best. A neighbor has a long row of sweet-peas in full bloom, also lots of glads. We use the street cars to go about town, and I walk to the fishing haunts."

A photograph from the St. Petersburg Times accompanied the letter, showing the municipal pier, "Before and After" The OPA ban on pleasure driving specifically taboos making automobile trips to such places as the pier and its beaches, for swimming, sun bathing or fishing.

Ten Yankee Fliers Become Bomber Aces

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Jan. 21—(AP)—Ten American officers and enlisted men, members of the crews of bombing planes which destroyed five or more enemy aircraft in combats in the southwest Pacific area, become "bomber aces" today in the official box score compiled by Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, in command of allied air forces in the area.

Gen. Kenney's box score shows Japanese planes shot down by American bombers in combat while on bombing or reconnaissance missions.

No American bombers or fighters have been shot down by Japanese bombers.

Since it is virtually impossible to give credit for knocking down a Zero to any one member of a bomber crew, Gen. Kenney's official list of enemy planes destroyed credits each member of the crew participating in the kill. Among those listed was a Fortress which was attacked by 12 Zeros over Rabaul on May 22. It shot down three before the completion of its mission.

COAL OUTPUT RISING

The Bituminous Coal Division of the Bureau of Mines has announced that progress is being made toward stepping up 1943 coal production by 30,000,000 tons to meet increased needs of wartime industry.

Along with suggesting that linens be laundered before they are too soiled, Miss Iwig emphasized the fact that sheets, pillow cases and towels should not be allowed to freeze on the clothes line, for this weakens the fiber.

Towels which are creased in different places rather than at the same one time after time when they are ironed will wear longer. Another pointer is to avoid too hot an iron, since it may scorch the material. Bath towels do not need to be ironed, for the loops should stand up so they will absorb moisture quickly.

FUEL NEEDS AT ALL-TIME HIGH

Wartime production has expanded the nation's coal needs to the all-time high of 600,000,000 tons for 1943; coke to 75,500,000 tons; anthracite to 65,000,000 tons, according to government surveys.

ONE INTRENCHING SHOVEL

One intrenching shovel might get an American "dug in" just in time to dodge a bullet. War Stamps buy intrenching shovels! If you really believed that renting your spare room could dig trenches that save lives you'd get going, wouldn't you? I'm an Evening Telegraph Want Ad, and I'm enlisted for Phone me at Number 5 and I'll turn YOUR spare room into intrenching shovels! the duration.
